PLURALS

PRESS RELEASE

3/2020

29 April 2020

Ms. Pushpam Priya Choudhary, President of Plurals, expressed her pain over plight of teachers in Bihar. She said that she feel ashamed, pained and agitated to see the condition of teachers in our society. She says that she pledges to bring back the dignity of teachers.

Through a video posted on a social media platform she said “there was a time when teachers were respected and worshipped in our society. Teachers were preferred over God. They were leaders of our society and just a few decades ago teachers used to head our nation. The condition of teachers and their position in our society has deteriorated a lot. Teachers are suffering due to poor infrastructure, overload of administrative responsibilities. Teachers are forced to build future of nation in terrible conditions. The respect for teachers has vanished in our society. Forget respect and preference over God, they are not even getting respectable salary and also facing humiliation and insult.”

Ms. Choudhary said that respect of teachers and dignity of education needs to be restored. Bihar would be transformed only when education would be transformed and teachers are nucleus of it. “I have not only vowed to transform Bihar, but also to restore dignity of teachers, give them respectable life, respectable salary and more importantly build a Bihar where they can live with dignity”, she said in her video posted on her social media accounts.
